CITY IS CAPTURED AFTER A HARD FIGHT

Monastir in Possession of Serbs and Greeks.

THOUSANDS FALL IN BATTLE

Turkish Troops to the Number of Fifty Thousand, Including Three Generals, Are Made Prisoners—Bulgars Again Driven Back at Tchatalja Forts, the Moslems Making a Successful Frontal Attack.

London, Nov. 19.—The Turkish town of Monastir has fallen to the Servians and Greeks. Fifty thousand Turks and three generals laid down their arms.

The main body of the western Turkish army fought desperately to hold the important town, but the fall of Monastir was assured when a Greek army cut the communication with Ochrida to the north, where the Turks were planning to retreat in case of defeat.

The struggle was most bloody. One report has it that the Serbs alone lost 2,500 during the first day's battle.

David Pasha, commander of the Turkish troops concentrated in and about Monastir, succeeded in throwing back a division of Greek troops advancing through the defile of Kirdar, about 20 miles from the city.

The Servians, floundering through mud up to their knees, made a series of spirited attacks with their artillery covering the infantry from the heights of Ohlakovo and Kechista, from which the Turks had been swept.

With the capture of Monastir, the work of the Serbo-Greek army in the west is practically done. The Turks in Monastir were discouraged by their defeats, disorganized and lacked provisions.

Fight at Tchatalja Forts.

The brunt of the fighting at Tchatalja forts has swung to the center of the lines. There the division under Mahmoud Mukhtar made a spirited frontal attack upon the Bulgars and, according to the official Turkish reports, broke up their formation, seized a number of guns and drove the Bulgars back. The Ottoman reports admit that the Turkish losses were heavy, as they had to advance through a hail of artillery fire.

While the capital awaits the details of the fighting, sailors from the foreign ships are patrolling the streets of the city. They are of much interest to the natives, who crowd around them as they make camp in front of the foreign embassies.

The Greeks sent back word to Athens that at Salonica, which they captured on the way to Monastir, they captured $30,000,000 from the Turks in that city.

It is said that the sultan has personally appealed to the sovereigns of the great powers to intervene and stop the war.

Foreign Residents Safe.

Washington, Nov. 19.—All necessary precautions for the protection of the foreign residents of Constantinople have been taken by members of the diplomatic corps there, according to dispatches from Ambassador Rockhill to the state department. The ambassador stated that while no serious trouble was feared at present, the representatives of the European governments thought it best to land men from the international fleet before Constantinople for the protection of the embassies and the legations. Six men from the United States gunboat Scorpion, station ship at Constantinople, were included in the landing parties.

Pennsylvania Passenger Train Runs Down Sisters.

Delphos, O., Nov. 19.—Carrie Hartings, 20, and her sister, Anna Hartings, 16, daughters of J. P. Hartings of Chikassaw, were struck and killed here by a Pennsylvania passenger train. The girls, waiting at a street crossing for one train to pass, failed to observe the approach of another.

Kenia, O., Nov. 19.—Angered because his 15-year-old sweetheart, Mary Barlow, refused to marry him, Roscoe Gordon, 17, swallowed an ounce of poison and was dead in 10 minutes.

RAIDS ARE MADE IN SEVEN CITIES

Brokers Accused of Using Mails in Scheme to Defraud.

WERE INDICTED AT CINCINNATI

Agents of the American Redemption Company, a Rochester, Conn., Concern, Caught in Net Spread by the Government—Estimate of Amount Secured by the Men Ranges Between $500,000 and $1,500,000.

New York, Nov. 19.—Arrests made in seven cities by the postoffice authorities followed the closing of the net which the government spread to catch the agents and principals of the American Redemption company, a Rochester concern, who are accused of using the mails in a scheme to defraud. Estimates of the amount secured by the scheme range between $500,000 and $1,500,000.

Prisoners were taken on warrants issued in New York, Cincinnati, Rochester, Cleveland, Newark, Boston and Chicago. The raids on the offices of the so-called "brokers" took place at the same time, so that no word of the impending danger could be flashed from one office to the others.

The men under arrest are accused of defrauding promoters and infant stock companies through fees received on promise of guaranteeing securities and securing their sale. The postoffice people also say that fees were also secured for "investigations" of property, and that some excuse was always found by the men under arrest for failing to render the promised services.

The ring is said by the postal authorities to have had connections in Canada and England and to have made particular use of a London branch in carrying out its scheme. Postoffice inspectors spent considerable time investigating the London end of the business before concluding the arrangements for making arrests in this country.

Say One Man Is the "Company."

In New York, Mason G. Worth is accused of having had part in the alleged scheme to defraud, and was arrested by Postoffice Inspectors Crowell and McQuillan in his office. Worth said he was a broker. The firm name is the Worth-Bulnestavars company, but the inspectors say that the hyped-up partner has ceased to do business and that Worth is the company.

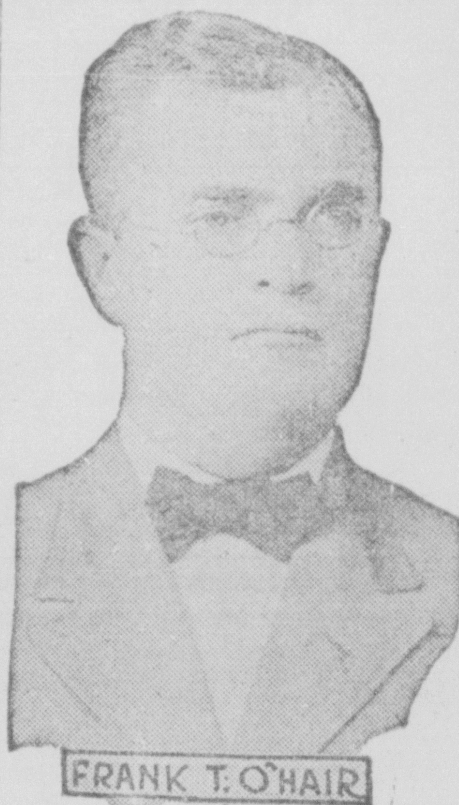

According to the complaint drawn up by Assistant United States Attorney Rossa, Worth was the agent of the American Redemption company. The inspectors who made the arrest said that the New York job used to be held by F. D. Minyard, who, dispatches from Cleveland said, had been arrested there. Minyard, said Inspector Crowell, operated here about two years ago, but left in disgust because the postoffice inspectors pestered him so much.

The arrests were made as the result of secret indictments returned at Cincinnati by the last United States grand jury. Those arrested were: F. D. Minyard, at Cleveland; S. Hanford, Chicago; H. B. Warren, Rochester, N. Y.; Mason G. Worth, New York; Thomas Fishwick, Boston; A. Bruce Crane, Newark, N. J.

Hard Blow For Combines Was Landed By the Court

Supreme Court's Decision in the Bathub Trust Case.

Washington, Nov. 19.—In an epoch-making decision in the so-called "bathub trust case" the supreme court of the United States laid down the broad principle that there can be no monopoly in the patented product of a patented machine without violating the Sherman anti-trust law. Justice McKenna delivered the unanimous opinion of the court.

In accordance with this doctrine the court struck down as illegal the "license agreements" by which manufacturers of 85 per cent of the enameled ironware in the United States were bound together in combination. The license agreements allowed the manufacturers to use a patented dredger, but only on condition that they abide by an attached price list, would not sell to jobbers who bought from independents, would not sell in certain territory and would not sell "seconds."

MANY WOULD ATTEND THE FIRE COLLEGE.

New York, Nov. 19.—Fire Commissioner Johnson has been receiving so many applications from out-of-town firemen for permission to attend the fire college here that the commissioner proposes to ask for a special fund to enable the department to take care of the out-of-town students. The establishment of the fire college here, the first of its kind in the country, attracted much attention, and many cities are desirous of instituting a service on similar lines.

Interesting Features of the Great Suffrage Parade

Photos by American Press Association.

TWENTY thousand women, girls and men marched in New York in a great night demonstration to celebrate the suffrage victory in four out of five western states. Nearly half a million spectators lined Fifth avenue from Fourteenth to Fifty-ninth street while the unique procession passed. The women outdid themselves in providing interesting features. For instance, there were several heralds in costume who blew forth victory with each step, and then there was the Sunshine society in attractive costumes, both of which are here shown.

Two Private Detectives, a City Sleuth, a Walter and Proprietor of Hotel Where the Shooting Occurred All Desperately Wounded and Will Die. Desperado Ends All by Killing the Girl and Himself.

New York, Nov. 19.—Two persons are dead and five men, including two private detectives and a city detective, are shot so badly they will die, as a result of a raid made by detectives at the Elmsmere hotel, in the Bronx. The man who did the shooting, one whom the police were after, killed his girl companion and committed suicide.

The dead: "Lottie," known only by that name; Henry Vogel, 48, shot himself after shooting all the others. The wounded, all of whom are in Lebanon hospital and all of whom will die, according to the estimate of the surgeons: John Allen, 54, known as Spider Allen, a former detective, now employed by the National Surety company; William Butler, a waiter employed at the hotel; Martin Fay, a city detective; Gerard Louisi, a private detective employed by the National Surety company; Louis Mondscheln, 38, proprietor of the hotel.

The shooting occurred as the result of an effort that the National Surety company detectives have been making

ATTORNEY GENERAL HOGAN

Takes Charge of Election Fraud Probe in Jefferson County, Ohio.

"TIM" DEALT OUT A HAND

To Take Personal Charge of Row Over Election Fraud Charges.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Attorney General Hogan left for Steubenville today armed with a requisition from Governor Harmon to take personal charge of the trouble stirred up in Jefferson county over election bribery charges. At Steubenville, when Prosecutor Paisley sought to have a postponement of the grand jury investigation made until Dec. 2, when an assistant from Mr. Hogan's department could be on hand to assist, Judge Reese G. Richards refused. He insisted that the grand jury proceed at once with its inquiry.

The prosecutor then telephoned Attorney General Hogan, who advised him, in the face of the judge's demand, not to issue a subpoena in the bribery cases. Later Mr. Hogan became so wrought up over what he considers the arbitrary attitude of the court that he decided to go personally to Steubenville. He asked the governor for a requisition directing him to go so, and thinks the court can hardly insist upon going contrary to his wishes if confronted with the requisition.

Had Time For Ruling

Legislature Must Provide For Election of a Chief Justice.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Attorney General Hogan gave Governor Harmon a lengthy opinion in which he formally decided questions upon which he passed informally some weeks ago. He held that no mistake was made at the November election in not choosing a chief justice, since this office, while mentioned in a new constitutional amendment, is not in existence until the assembly provides for the election of an occupant and specifies the term, salary, manner of selection, etc. Mr. Hogan also held that the judges elected Nov. 5 for the circuit court can take their places without question on the newly created courts of appeals.

Royal Chapter Annual Election

Royal Chapter No. 29, O. E. S., held its annual election Monday night with a large attendance of members.

Before the election the Floral degree was given with fifteen candidates, and followed by the drill.

Never during the weeks of practice was the drill work more perfectly put on. The Drill squad included Miss Vera Veall, Mesdames Mae Rodgers, Annetta Rowe, Margaret Colwell, Florence Snyder, Nona Pine, Anna McFadden, Martha Marks, Misses May Duffee, Ida Ware.

The class initiated into the work was composed of Mesdames Nancy Taylor, Maude Penn, Lola Gregg, Jessie Lynch, Ollie Hays, Emma McCormick, Erney Klever, Mattie Van Pelt, Daisy Slagle, Minnie Sturgeon, Myra Harvot, Chelsea Durlinger, Viola Cline, Blanch McFadden, Miss Mazie Sturgeon.

The presence of the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Eva Penn, was greatly appreciated by chapter members and lent added inspiration to the work.

The election of officers for the coming year resulted as follows:

Worthy Matron, Mrs. Annetta Rowe; Worthy Patron, Mr. W. C. Slagle; Assistant Matron, Mrs. Margaret Colwell; Conductress, Miss May Duffee; Associate Conductress, Mrs. Martha Marks; Secretary, Mrs. Lola Gregg; Treasurer, Mrs. Nona Pine; Trustee, Mr. Scott Hopkins.

Breaks Arm Cranking Auto

Miss Ida Junk, of Austin, had the misfortune to break her arm while cranking the automobile at the Junk home near Austin Monday noon.

The break proved a bad fracture of the wrist.

Miss Junk was brought to this city and taken to the home of Dr. C. C. Hazard, who set the broken bones, Dr. G. W. Blakely assisting.

She will remain at the Hazard home a day or two, while recovering from the operation.

Annual Turkey Feed Thoroughly Enjoyed

The annual turkey feed of Company M, O. N. G., held at the Armory Monday night, proved an unusually enjoyable affair with several guests present to enjoy the repast with the company.

The banquet was held in the drill room, and the turkey, of which there was an abundance, was very toothsome prepared by Cook Sprague and Lieutenant Lydy, and served by a committee of the guards.

The visitors present were: Col. B. H. Millikan, former Lieutenant Wm. Sheets, Capt. W. B. Hershey, Capt. Chas. L. Updyke, Major Rell G. Allen, former bugler to Gen. Wilson, Odd F. Ott, Frank Rothrock, John Durant, Chas. Snyder and Ray F. Zaner. Forty men and three officers of the company were present.

Following the repast all of the visitors responded to a call for speeches and a social hour followed. Col.

Millikan, the only member living in this city who was a member of the company organized 37 years ago, told of the difficulties encountered by the company in years gone by, and spoke of the changes made in the methods of supporting the company.

The new Armory as proposed, was discussed at some length, all expressing themselves as very much in favor of it. Members of the Armory board, who had been invited, were unable to attend.

Some of the visitors who were not familiar with the equipment of the company, and the work required, expressed their surprise at the completeness of the equipment and the amount of work required of the officers and men.

Local Contributor Well-known Journal

In the November 16th issue of "The Country Gentleman," is a very well written and intensely practical article by Miss Mina Rowe, Domestic Science teacher in our Public schools.

The article is on "The Chemistry of Stains and Effective Ways of Removing the Most Stubborn Discolorations," and gives an amount of culled information that will be welcome indeed to the tidy housewife.

As Miss Rowe says in her opening sentence, "The capacity of things in the physical world to stain delicate materials seems to the housewife, with an eye for neatness, to be one of the most unnecessary and exasperating of natural phenomena. It is only recently that we have begun to realize that the chemist may be able to simplify the task of removing stains for us."

Basing her suggestions upon the "cause" of the stain and a knowledge of chemistry unusual in the average feminine student, Miss Rowe offers many helpful ideas as to the treatment which meets with the best success in various stains.

The entire article is one which may, with profit, be retained among the housewife's valued recipes and will materially aid her in the removal of obdurate stains.

Operation Fatal

Mrs. W. R. Ely, formerly of this city, died last evening in Columbus following an operation performed at a hospital in that city. The news of her death was a great shock to many friends here who were unaware until last week that she was ill. The word of her illness came here after a visit of Piqua friends to the Ely home at Columbus.

The family formerly resided on Riverside drive here, and Mr. Ely who operated a broker's office in the Orr-Flesh building, was a prominent member of the Elk lodge and well known. Mrs. Ely's relatives and parents reside in Washington C. H. but Mr. Ely advises his friends here that the interment will be in a Columbus cemetery. Besides her husband she is survived by two young daughters.—Piqua Leader-Dispatch.

IN SOCIETY

The Monday Bridge club was indebted to Mrs. V. J. Dahl for an exquisitely appointed luncheon yesterday.

Magnificent white and yellow chrysanthemums were used through the rooms and on the table. Thank-giving suggestions were a feature of the luncheon.

Mrs. Howard Griffiths, who left this city to make her home in Hattiesburg, Miss., last year, has been actively interested in the establishing of a public library and rest rooms in the city of her adoption.

The movement was promoted by the Philathea City Union and is the outcome of many energetic efforts. Mrs. Griffiths is president of the Union.

Under her direction the Philathea union gave an "at home" to celebrate the formal opening of the rest and reading rooms.

Several hundred attended and the tea was a pretty and charming affair.

The library is a most cosy, tasteful room, the walls being of a deep blue tint and the girls with their own hands fashioned dainty curtains of white cheese cloth and drapery of blue burlap to adorn the windows. The floor is stained and blue rugs on the floor.

Cases containing the books are along the walls and there may be found a new international encyclopaedia and several sets of fine reference books.

Shoots His Guest
Gun Has History

Using a gun with which Policeman Henry Shires killed Frank Buckley two years ago, John Miller shot and instantly killed Walter Chamberlain in Wellston Monday.

The shooting occurred at the Miller home, where the men had been imbibing too freely. A child of Miller's, acting upon the orders of its mother concealed the whiskey. This angered Miller and he seized a child Mrs. Chamberlain was carrying in her arms. This caused Chamberlain to interfere and Miller pulled a gun and shot his guest three times, causing instant death. The two men had been life-long friends. Miller was arrested.

Man—He's Been a Mystery For Thousands
Of Years, And He's Still a Mystery.

Two thousand years ago a gent named Socrates said:
"As a man thinks, so is he."

Two weeks ago Professor G. Stanley Hall came out with the statement "As a man eats, so is he."

As it seems to be a hobby nowadays in taking a "blind stab" on the subject of Man, we wish to put our oar in with this:

"As a Man Dresses
SO IS HE."

It is the dress of the Yellow Primrose that makes us pick it up along the roadside in preference to other flowers.

It is the dress of the Successful Man that makes Opportunity or Fate, or Luck, or whatever you choose to call it, pick him up along the Roadside of Life in preference to others.

Moral: Think of your dress.

HOSPITAL EVOLUTION.

The fact that just a very few years ago Washington was without any hospital at all and our citizens were beginning in earnest the agitation to secure a hospital and now our city boasts of two splendidly equipped modern hospitals, has brought all of us, necessarily into closer contact with and a clearer realization of just what a modern hospital is. The evolution of the hospital is interesting when one stops to consider it.

The modern hospital is a sanitary work-shop. Until a few years ago, it was a place where sick people could be kept until they recovered. Today, it is a work-shop where they are made well.

A few years ago the adequately equipped hospital was a clean house with clean floors, clean walls, a clean bed, indifferently trained nurse and a doctor whose sole means of diagnosis were his ear, his eye and his touch at the bedside of the patient. Today the modern hospital has a laboratory of pathology to aid the surgeon or physician in his diagnosis, a laboratory of bacteriology, a department of physical therapeutics for various sorts of exercise, a department of dietetics in which patients may be fed by the doctor's prescription and their food measured in exact terms; an operating department, aseptic, with all which that term implies; a milk laboratory for infant-feeding, and a vast list of machinery such as blood-cells, X-ray outfits, apparatus for introducing normal salines and other fluids into the blood, and so on down the list almost ad infinitum.

Yet this change is more one of degree than of kind.

In 1863, Florence Nightingale published a book on the hospital of that day. Her plans down to the minutest detail show the hospital unit almost precisely as it is today—the ward flanked by the service-room, the bath, the toilet, the slop-sink room, the convalescents' dining-room, the linen room, the surgical dressing-room, the supply-rooms and the medicine-closets.

Today, says Dr. W. B. Russ, our units are the same, but our construction is steel and concrete; we have no carpets and dust-catchers; our furniture is of white enamel. We have forsaken the old-time heat registers with their dust and soot; we have steam radiators that give nothing into the sick-room; we have screens on our windows to deny admission to the fly and the mosquito and other insects that may carry the organisms of disease.

We know that sunlight is one of God's ways of curing disease and that fresh air is one of the greatest physicians in the world, so that we build our modern hospitals with windows facing to the sun, with air-space measured in terms of cubic feet for the sick.

The modern hospital marks the same progress of evolution which people are making towards simplicity, cleanliness and nature and away from ignorance and superstition.

Men have been going forward at a rapid rate, but in no single division of life's duties is that progress more marked perhaps than in the treatment of the sick and injured.

Our modern hospitals show that progress in a very marked degree.

Modern Flirt

Now Given Her Own Peculiar Place

By KATHERINE PRESCOTT, Social Secretary, Boston, Mass.

IN OTHER DAYS one of the worst accusations that could be made against a woman was that of flirting. If the charge could be proved, it was sufficient for cold treatment by other women—though the men seldom followed that lead—and if it was not proved, it was slander. Happily, I think, we have relaxed a little on that point. Perhaps we have seen that there is something much worse than flirtation, of which flirtation is a natural enemy, and that is stupidity.

At that age when flirtation most commonly plays its part, there is likely to be a good deal of sentiment of a fatally serious kind. I am convinced that a lack of humor, if not absolute stupidity, is the foundation of much of this ponderous affection, which may or may not terminate happily. The first, if we accept the definition of common parlance—one who practices the gaining of affections for self-gratification—either directly or indirectly wards off some of this danger.

Knowing the existence of the flirt, the young man or young woman will offer a resistance to the usual theft of reason, with a degree of success which could not have come from within their overawed selves. How many men and women there are who fancy themselves in love today who would be better off if they were frankly flirting, we can only conjecture; and how many men and women in the matrimonial condition who wish they had been only flirting we fear even to conjecture.

Of course there is much said of the "heartless flirt," of consequent wasted lives and broken hearts. But seldom we hear of the wasted lives and broken hearts which follow the marriage contracted after the most conventional courtship by two well-meaning and eminently earnest individuals who simply made a mistake when they thought, in this world of 1,500,000,000 souls, it had been arranged by heaven that they should meet and go to housekeeping together. A period of flirtations might have taught them something of life. A flirt might have helped both of them.

I think this is the office of the flirt—the real flirt—to prepare the way for advantageous selection; to destroy foolish theories and to prevent premature disillusionment. That the flirt cannot fulfill even this part completely is not the fault of the flirt—the job is too big. But the flirt helps a little.

Poetry For Today

FALL ON THE "CRICK."

Frosty round the aiges now
Uv dear ol' "Lizzard Crick;"
Red an' yellor foliage
Comin' fast an' thick.
Turkeys they are diggin' deep
Where the banks are low;
Bullfrogs they are duckin' from
Winter's ice an' snow.

Swallows they are swarmin' now
Fur their autumn flight;
Millions in the air a-wing
Make a wondrous sight.
Ducks are settin' 'neath the hills
Where the water's warm;
North'ard skies are stirrin' up
An October storm.

Bob White whistles on the marsh
Callin' to his mate;
Squirrel he is stackin' nuts
On his winter plate.
Herons foldin' up their laigs
Fur the south'ard flight;
Pick'el hunt fur warmer holes
Deep down out o' sight.

Frosty round the aiges now,
Marshes fiery red;
Raccoon busy ez a bee
Fixin' up his bed.
Winter's comin' on apace.
Chill is in the air;
But abroad is Gungywamp
Joy is ev'rywhere!

WILSON HAS ARRIVED IN LAND OF REST FREE FROM HUNTSMEN

RECEIVES OFFICIAL WELCOME IN BERMUDA

Wilson Drives Through Decorated Streets to His Hotel.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 19.—President-elect Wilson and his family stepped off the steamship Bermudian here, and the very first thing that happened to Mr. Wilson seeking a rest was an address of welcome.

On the dock to meet the Wilson party was Mayor Vainwright, who bore a copy of an illuminated address of welcome prepared by the corporation of the city of Hamilton, and told Mr. Wilson how proud Bermuda was to welcome him. There was a big crowd on the dock and they cheered lustily as Mr. Wilson said that he hoped nothing would disturb the cordiality between Bermuda and the United States while he was president. Then Mr. Wilson sent Lieutenant Lawrence, his aide-de-camp, to thank the chamber of commerce for their welcome, and drove to a hotel through streets gay with bunting flung out from all the houses in his honor. It was a triumphant procession for the party, for they were cheered all along the way.

As soon as he got to the hotel, the president-elect found all sorts of proposals waiting him from the Bermudians, who want to be sure that he has a good time on the island.

Clansmen Must Die.

Queer Justice.

Prison Visitor—My friend, you ought not to complain. You are here to satisfy the demands of justice. Prisoner—Not much I am. For months my creditors kept urging me to raise money and when I raised a check they put me in jail. I'm blamed if I can see how you call that justice.

PORTO RICO'S NEW WONDER.

From far away Porto Rico came reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barceloneta, writes "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles it has no equal. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1.00. KISSING IN ENGLAND.

Its Prevalence at One Time Used to Puzzle Foreign Visitors.

Kissing, which has been officially prohibited at the railway station of Sarmen, in Switzerland, flourished in England in the seventeenth century to such an extent that the foreign visitor was bewildered by its prevalence. Nicholas de Bethien, who traveled in England in 1683, writes that "my brother and I behaved very rudely on one occasion, being unaware that it was customary in that country to kiss the corner of the mouth of ladies, instead of shaking hands, as we do in Hungary. We were invited to dine at the house of a gentleman of high rank and found his wife and three daughters (one of them married) ready to receive us. We kissed the girls, but not the married ladies, and thereby greatly offended the latter. Duval apologized for our blunder and told us that when saluting we must always kiss the senior lady first and leave the girls to the last."

The learned and sedate Erasmus in 1499 wrote a Latin letter from England to his friend Fausto Anfolini advising him to come here at once, for, he remarks: "Here are girls with angels' faces who will receive you with kisses. They come to visit you anywhere, kisses in abundance—in fine, wherever you move there is nothing but kisses."

In 1496 a Bohemian nobleman named Leo von Rozmital visited England and in the "Journal of His Travel," published in 1577, he noted, "It is the custom there that on the arrival of a distinguished stranger from foreign parts the hostess with all her family goes out to meet him and the guests are required to kiss them all, and this among the English was the same as shaking hands among other nations."—Chicago News.

FRENCH CAVE DWELLERS

Two Million Modern Troglodytes, Mostly Peasants, in the Republic.

"There are no fewer than 2,000,000 cave dwellers in France," writes a traveler. "Whether you travel north, south, east or west, you will find these curious imitations of the homes of primitive man. They stretch for fully seventy miles along the valley of the Loire, from Blois to Saumur, and as the train proceeds you can catch a glimpse from time to time, of their picturesque entrances, surrounded by flowers and verdure. As likely as not you will see the inhabitants standing or sitting in front of their mysterious looking caverns, and unless you have learned the contrary, you will be inclined to imagine that they possess some of the characteristics of the troglodytes of old, and that their homes are mere dens. Not so, as you will find on visiting them.

"They are nearly all well-to-do peasants, owners perhaps of some of the vineyards that deck the slopes on all sides, and their habitations are, as a rule, both healthy and comfortably furnished. These singular houses are remarkably cool in summer, without being in the least damp, while in winter they can be warmed much more easily and better than ordinary apartments. The health of the modern troglodyte is, as a rule, excellent, and it is not uncommon to find centenarians among them. This, however, is by no means surprising when we consider that their homes are not only healthful to live in, but are also comfortably furnished and fitted up.

"In the majority of cases these rock houses were not excavated for the special purpose of being inhabited, but with the object of obtaining stone for the building of houses. At Rochecorbon there is a rock dwelling carved out of a single block of stone, and the ingenious owner, in addition to making a two-story villa therefrom, has provided himself with a roof garden, from which a fine view of the valley can be obtained. A similar house exists at Bour'e, in which locality the disused quarries are said to date from the days of the Romans."

Jarred Queen Wilhelmina.

Queen Wilhelmina has a good ear for music, and once when an amateur musician was playing at the court she nearly disgraced herself from the point of view of royal discipline. His playing was anything but brilliant, and it so jarred on the young queen's ear that she hastily jumped up and left the room. Her courtiers remonstrated with her. "I know I ought not to have done what I did," she said. "I mean to be polite to my people, but I cannot be polite to wrong harmonies." Later she sent for the poor musician and begged his pardon, but it was a question whether her condescension as a queen was great enough to offset the fact that this only seemed to make a bad matter worse.

Quick Action Is Expected Against The Gunmen

New York, Nov. 19.—It was the opinion of defense and prosecution and of spectators who have followed the testimony in the trial of Gyp the Blood, Lefty Louie, Whitey Lewis and Dago Frank for the killing of Herman Rosenthal, that when the case goes to the jury this afternoon, following Justice Goff's charge, the gunmen will not have to remain awake very late tonight to learn the verdict.

The Accused Lawyer Rules Own Counsel On Differences

Clash Between Attorneys a Feature of the Murder Trial.

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 19.—A serious clash between Burton W. Gibson, the lawyer accused of murdering his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, for her $10,000 estate, and his counsel as to who shall dominate in matters causing difference of opinion, has resulted from the efforts of selecting a jury. Robert H. Elder says that five of the jurors were selected against his better judgment by Gibson because, when it comes down to a matter of a verdict of guilty, the jurors are the ones to "hand out the dope" and Gibson is the one to suffer. As for Gibson, he gleefully said, as he sat on the cot in his cell, his wife by his side: "I've had my way in the selection of the jury. I am well satisfied. We have a fine body of men."

The Columbus Murder Trial Is Proceeding To Its Close

Witness Says Zollinger Was an Insanely Jealous Man.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Further strengthening its claim that Miss Cecilia Farley was virtually hounded by Alvin E. Zollinger in his attempt to force her to continue her relations with him, the defense, through Zollinger's confidant, Dr. Perry L. Ford, an optician, showed that Zollinger was madly in love with her and had threatened her life, as well as that of Quigley and himself.

A number of employees of the bureau of vital statistics, where Miss Farley was employed, told of his attentions to her also and gave evidence indicating that he sought to coerce and dominate her.

That Zollinger had become insanely jealous of Miss Farley, but yet wanted to help her forget the past and did help her, though she continued to solicit his attentions, was testimony damaging to the defense given by Dr. Ford.

He said Zollinger confided in him and told him of his relations with Miss Farley. Dr. Ford was a witness for the defense, but Prosecutor Turner obtained the evidence from him on cross-examination.

Cause of the Shooting.

Several days ago a woman by the name of Sophie Brinkerhoff was arrested, charged with being a dishonest servant. She was held for the grand jury and was indicted. It is said that after her indictment she made a confession to having been responsible for several robberies and said that Vogel had been implicated in them.

The National Surety company stood to lose by these robberies, and the company has been very anxious to break up the gang that caused them.

Spider Allen and Louis were given the job of running Vogel down. They picked up the trail of Vogel and followed him. They met Detective Fay and invited him to "get in" on the arrest. Vogel went to the Elsmere hotel and registered. He and Lottie were assigned to a room on the third floor. When the detectives got to the Elsmere hotel they talked to the proprietor about the guests that had registered, and after setting descriptions decided that the pair in the third floor were the couple they were after. They went to the room. A knock on the door caused Vogel to open it a few inches and ask who wanted him. He was told some detectives. Then he opened the door and hit Allen over the head with a blackjack. Vogel then jumped into the room and put his hand under the pillow of the bed. It reappeared and Vogel opened fire.

The seven persons who were shot were found unconscious on the floor. Three ambulances were summoned hastily from Lebanon hospital and they were taken there.

Employees of American Ranch in Mexico Forced to Flee For Their Lives.

Monterey, Mexico, Nov. 19.—The Cedros ranch, embracing 2,000,000 acres, owned by the Intercontinental Rubber company of New York, known as an Aldrich-Rockefeller concern, has been taken possession of by rebels, and the manager and all foreign employees upon the property have been forced to flee for their lives. The ranch is situated in the state of Zacatecas and is the chief source of the Quayule shrub supply for the rubber factories of the company in Mexico. It is stated that bands of rebels have been occupying portions of the ranch for several months, and recently they burned several small buildings and began hauling off the Quayule shrub.

Argument Over Wages Is Still On In Earnest

FINED FOR HIS HOME RUN

Most Remarkable Episode in the History of Baseball.

According to history there is but one case where a man was fined for knocking out a home run and winning the game. In 1895 Fort Worth and Dallas in the Texas League were fighting nose and nose for the pennant. Mike Ward was managing the Fort Worth team. Dale Gear was pitching. In the ninth inning the Dallas Team had the Fort Worth outfit by a score of 3 to 2, and the light end of the batting order was coming up for Fort Worth.

"Stub" Ryan, a piano-legged young man on the Fort Worth team, opened the ninth inning with a single. Dale Gear, the pitcher, was the next man up. Mike sent him to the plate with orders to drop a bunt and send "Stub" along to second. Dale Gear was an unusual sort of a ball player (he is now an attorney in Kansas City), and if there was one thing he hated to do it was to sacrifice. He liked to hit the ball and hear it scream.

"You sacrifice," says Mike. "If you hit that ball out of the diamond, I'll fine you. I surely will."

gear may have meant to follow his instructions all right enough, but the Dallas pitcher put one straight over for him and Dale took a terrific crack at the ball. The ball flew on a line into right field. As Dale started down toward first base Mike Ward jumped from the bench and yelled, "I'll fine you $25 for that!"

The Dallas right fielder chased back to the fence, and then made a leap into the air. He could not have caught that ball with a butterfly net. It cleared the top of the fence and went for a home run, winning the game.

The Fort Worth fans went wild. They showered money on the pitcher as he crossed the plate, yelling, "Pay your fine! Pay your fine!"

Gear collected his cap full of silver cartwheels, and then offered a large stack to Mike Ward. Mike did not know what to do. Finally he took the money and made a speech.

"I never remitted a fine in my life!" barked Mike, "and this fine stands. I am going to make Dale a present of $50 out of my own pocket."

HUNTER SHOTS BOY AND DEATH FOLLOWS

Little Guy Caudy, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caudy, residing in Pickaway county not far from Waterloo, was fatally injured late Saturday evening by John Crawford, who, with a man named Jack Kelley, was hunting on the Frank Johnson farm northeast of Waterloo.

The Caudy family was preparing to leave home and in order to get away as soon as possible, the little fellow volunteered to feed the cow, and went to the pasture to drive the cow home. Attracted by the shooting he went into an adjoining field where the men were hunting, but soon left them, and the men supposed that he was out of the field.

A covey of quail arose, and the two men commenced firing. When Crawford fired he was attracted to a clump of bushes by a piercing scream, and was horrified upon discovering that he had shot the little boy whom he supposed had returned home.

The load of shot struck the child full in the face, tearing away the nose and one eye and penetrating the brain, causing unconsciousness. After lingering until Sunday evening the lad died in convulsions.

As the shooting was purely accidental, no arrests were made. Crawford is nearly crazed over the sad affair, and vows he will never again pick up a gun to go hunting. The child's parents are broken-hearted over the tragedy which robbed them of their son.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon and burial took place at Five Points, in Pickaway county.

So far this is the only fatal accident that has occurred in this part of the state since the hunting season opened.

Chief Engineer Badly Wounded

Chief Engineer of the Washington Gas & Electric Company, David Myers, was very painfully injured Monday while oiling one of the engines.

In leaning over the engine a bar on the engine struck him across the forehead, cutting a gash three or four inches in length and causing the blood to pour from it in a stream.

A physician was called, sewed up the wound, and took Mr. Myers to his home. He is recovering very nicely, and is very thankful that the injury was not more serious.

At the Empire

A. G. Delamater (producer of clean plays) will present an excellent scenic production of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly," a dramatization of Mr. McCutcheon's most popular and successful novel, "Beverly of Graustark," by Robert M. Baker at the Empire theater on Friday Nov. 22. As each of the characters introduced in the novel appear in the play, a large and expensive cast as well as exceptionally heavy scenic production is required for its proper presentation, and as the company appearing here have been engaged for the express purpose of playing an extended engagement at a leading Broadway theater, no expense has been spared either as to cast or scenic equipment.

FORMER RESIDENT AND COMPANION ARRESTED

Carl Noble, of Bloomingburg, who for some time has been a bell hop at the Virginia Hotel, Columbus, is now under arrest charged with the theft of some $900 in money and jewelry which he and another bell-hop by the name of Johnny Chapman are accused of stealing from the till of the Hotel Virginia a few nights ago.

The youngsters broke into the money drawer during the absence of the clerk, and in addition to securing some $350 in money, also walked off with $500 worth of diamonds, and in addition filled their suitcases with choice wines from the wine room.

Young Chapman was arrested in Chillicothe, and was taken back to Columbus to stand trial, and the lad is said to have made a confession in which he states that young Noble broke the lock and got away with most of the contents of the cash drawer.

Word from Columbus Tuesday was to the effect that Noble had been arrested in Detroit, and will be brought back to Columbus to stand trial. Detective Lester located the lad.

The lad, while at Bloomingburg, had always borne an excellent reputation for honesty.

Yeggs Terrorize Portage Citizens

Special to Herald.

Bowling Green, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Yeggs secured $4,000 by blowing the safe of Munn's bank at Portage before day-break this morning.

Armed men patrolled the street to keep the citizens away until the safe was blown and the robbers escaped. They have not been captured.

COMBINATION CHAIR.

For Adults' Use or Makes a Good High Chair for Baby.

The piece of furniture shown in the illustration is a sort of family chair. It is suitable either for father, mother or the baby. When closed it looks like and is an ordinary dining room chair. When opened it is converted into a high chair of the standard height, equipped with tray and all. The secret of this combination arti-

Seat Rises on Steel Bars. The child lies in the seat, which has a section that lifts out on steel bars of the Jack-in-the-box type. It is on these bars that the infant's seat is supported, and they are made sufficiently strong to support baby without danger. In simply lifting back the seat of the dining-room chair the high chair attachment is sprung into place. In dining rooms where space is at a premium, or for families who do not consider a high chair as fitting into the scheme of their dining room decoration, this combination chair will be found just the thing needed to answer both purposes.—Boston Post. Slept to Death.

A case which the coroner described as the most puzzling in his experience, and one which was "evidently beyond the ken of medical science," came up at Tiverton, England, recently, when an inquest was held into the cause of death of Jane Disney, a girl of 20. Dr. Pollock said the girl, who was thought to be hysterically inclined, slept to her death, and, although he had minutely examined every organ, he could find no cause for this, the body being perfectly healthy. He mentioned that there were several cases on record of people having died without any apparent cause.

A verdict of "Death from coma" was returned, the jury not considering it necessary to have the sealed contents of the stomach analyzed, as the doctor had stated that it was exceedingly unlikely that anything poisonous would be revealed.

Write Ideas For Moving Picture Plays!

YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How

If you have ideas...if you can THINK...we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100, and more, for single scenarios or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, MELIES, ETU, urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure.

You Will Earn $100 Monthly For Spare Time Work.

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book. "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING."

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write NOW and learn just what this new profession may mean for you and your future.

"Stolen" Horse Quickly Found

Arthur Hines, residing on the Jeffersonville pike, reported to the police Monday night that his horse and buggy, which had been left on Fayette street at the rack Monday night, had been stolen about six o'clock.

The police took the usual methods in locating the horse and buggy, but no trace was found of it until about 7:30 Tuesday morning, when it was found on the Jeffersonville pike about a half mile from home. The animal had evidently pulled loose from the hitch rack and started toward home. The buggy was not damaged.

Marvels of the Telegraph.

Kadachi, in northwestern India, is now within a minute of London by telegraph. The Indo-European Telegraph Company has recently introduced a system of relays along its line, so that the electric current which starts from London can be propelled the full distance of more than five thousand miles to Karachi. Hitherto it has been necessary to have operators at several points to take the message and repeat it. The relays, which substitute a strong current for a weak one, have displaced the operators and quickened the time in which messages can be transmitted. The system is not a novel one, and has long been in use in this country, but the Anglo-Indian line is longest upon which it has been established.

A BIT UNKIND.

"My dear, I have to make a speech at the banquet to-night. I don't know what on earth to say."

"Oh, just say, 'Excuse me, but I have a sore throat.' They'll be delighted."

A correspondent writes: The late Mr. Frank H. Hill, sometimes editor of the Daily News, was a man of keen, incisive wit, and at least one of his mottos was worth recording. A rather arrogant and self-sufficient political critic was enlightening a dinner party at which Mr. Hill was present on the state of political parties. "In a word," he concluded, "the Liberals, generally speaking, are knaves, and the Conservatives fools." "I believe," quietly observed Hill, "that you, Mr. —, call yourself a Liberal-Conservative."—Westminster Gazette.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Mitigating Circumstances.

Speaking of the depths to which prize fighting has fallen, it was at a little "figure" attraction near Pittsburgh that the audience was much displeased with the manner in which the fighters conducted themselves.

To tell the plain truth they were "stalling"—making believe they were fighting, while in reality they had agreed previously not to hit each other hard enough to hurt.

In answer to the hissing the referee advanced to the side of the ring and faced the audience. "It isn't my fault that they didn't fight; they were paid to fight," he said.

Then one of the fighters arose and put up his hand for silence.

"We only got $5 apiece and a beef stew, and we ain't going to kill ourselves for that," he said.

And the audience, sympathizing with the fighters, hissed the promoters.—Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

A Plausible Excuse.

Another story credited to the late Justice Brewer has it that while he was judge in a minor court he was presiding at the trial of a wife's suit for separation and alimony. The defendant acknowledged that he hadn't spoken to his wife in five years, and Judge Brewer put in a question.

"What explanation have you," he asked severely "for not speaking to your wife in five years?"

"Your Honor," replied the husband, "I didn't like to interrupt the lady."

—Everybody's.

Fogs and Wireless Telegraphy.

It is one of the many marvels of wireless telegraphy that the ether waves which carry its messages, unlike light waves, suffer no absorption in mist or fog. Quite the opposite, in fact, is the case, for the effect on them of clear sunlight is so marked that they can be sent with equal initial power only less than half the distance by day as by night. For this reason press dispatches and long distance messages sent by wireless telegraphy are, wherever possible, committed to the ether waves after sunset.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Heavy Judgment Awarded Catrow.
Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—The circuit court handed down a decision in the C. D. & M. receivership case, sustaining the common pleas court in granting a judgment of $73,000 to T. J. Catrow against the C. D. & M. As to the question of jurisdiction which has been a live one in all the C. D. & M. controversies, the court decides that Franklin county has jurisdiction and that it should maintain it. Since the receiver was appointed in August, 1903, it has been in almost constant controversy in the Franklin county courts and those of Marion county.

Farmers Beat Off Construction Gang.
Lima, O., Nov. 19.—An army of 200 determined Allen county farmers, armed with picks and shovels, fought off a construction gang of the Chicago & Erie Railway company and refilled a grade crossing cut near here, undoing work which had cost the railroad thousands of dollars. The clash was a result of the railroad's refusal to keep the highway open while a bridge across the Erie double-tracking was in the course of construction.

Harmon to Go to Europe.
Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—On retirement from office Jan. 13, Governor Harmon will make an extended trip to Europe. He will take the Mediterranean trip, touring Egypt and the Italian cities. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Harmon and his daughter, Mrs. Wright. At London his daughter, Mrs. Cassatt, will join the family party. He expects to be abroad two or three months.

Serious Charge Against Police Chief.
Canton, O., Nov. 19.—Papers were filed before Justice Hinehart against Chief of Police H. W. Smith, charging him with unlawfully collecting $25 from Fannie Schmidt, an alleged keeper of a disorderly house. The affidavit was filed by Rev. E. B. Townsend, head of the anti-vice crusade.

Robbery in Hotel.
Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Facts concerning a jewel robbery which took place at the Hotel Lincoln, in East Broad street, have come to light. Pearls and diamonds worth approximately $1,200 belonging to Miss Marie A. Gwynne were stolen. There is no clew.

Killed Ohio Oil Promoter.
Independence, Kan., Nov. 19.—A. O. Truskett, whose fourth trial on a charge of murdering J. D. S. Neeley, a Lima (O.) oil promoter, resulted in his acquittal on the ground of insanity, was sentenced by Judge Flannelly to the asylum for the dangerous insane at Lansing, Kan.

With Apologies to the Fraternity.
Sir John Ashley had a curious habit of speaking about himself as "Ashley" and blending the third person singular with the first person in the most unusual way. This is how he used to relate what happened:
"Ashley went to the Derby, and I'm blessed if Ashley's ticker wasn't stolen from him. As it had been given me and I prized it, I went to the head pickpocket, with whom I was acquainted, and said, 'See here; they've taken Ashley's ticker.' The man blushed. 'Good Lord! You don't mean it, Sir John?' he stammered. 'Will you 'ave the goodness to just wait 'ere? I'll be back in a jiffy.' He was back in three minutes with Ashley's ticker, which he handed over, saying most humbly as he did so: 'I 'ope, Sir John, you'll accept the apologies of the 'ole fraternity. It was quite a mistake, and it was done by a noo beginner.'"
—Westminster Gazette.

Doctors and Mustaches.
English doctors who grew mustaches once ran the risk of spoiling their practice. G. W. E. Russell in "One Look Back" remarks: "Quite certainly the first time I ever fell into the hands of a mustached doctor was in 1877. Every one condemned the hirsute appendage as highly unprofessional, and when soon after the poor man found his way into a lunatic asylum neighboring doctors of the old school said they were not surprised—that there was a bad family history and that he himself had shown signs of eccentricity. That meant the mustache and nothing else."

THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD

For The People of This Vicinity

IF YOU want the most efficient help, if you want the right kind of a buyer for that piece of property, or the best tenant for that house or flat; if you are looking for the best chance to buy, rent or sell; Perhaps you have been unfortunate and have lost something that you prize very highly and you desire to recover it; Maybe you are thinking of trading that city piece of property for a nice site out in the country; In fact, you want the best of everything, as we all certainly do; then it will be necessary for you to refer to the best newspaper in the County of Fayette.

The Washington Daily Herald

"WANT AD COLUMNS."
